Discription

Chapter 1

The Boy Who Lived

- Introduction of the Dursleys:

The chapter begins by introducing Vernon and Petunia Dursley, their mundane life, and their aversion to anything out of the ordinary.

- The Mysterious Cat:

A tabby cat, later revealed to be Professor McGonagall in disguise, is seen reading a map and observing the Dursleys, foreshadowing the magical world's involvement.

- The Arrival of Harry:

Albus Dumbledore and Rubeus Hagrid bring baby Harry to the Dursleys, leaving him with a letter explaining the situation.

- The Death of the Potters:

The chapter reveals that Lord Voldemort killed Harry's parents, James and Lily Potter, but mysteriously failed to kill Harry, leaving him with a lightning bolt scar.

Chapter 2

The Vanishig Glass

- Harry's Life with the Dursleys:

  The chapter opens by highlighting the harsh reality of Harry's life with the Dursleys, living in a cupboard under the stairs and constantly tormented by his cousin Dudley.

- The Zoo Trip:

  The Dursleys take Harry and Dudley to the zoo for Dudley's birthday. This outing provides the setting for the magical incident with the snake.

- The Vanishing Glass:

  While looking at a boa constrictor, Harry begins talking to the snake. When Dudley pushes Harry, the glass of the snake's enclosure disappears, and the snake escapes.
